- h. Detection of money laundering, financial and credit checks, prevention and detection of fraud and crime;
- i. Administrative purposes relating to security and access to our systems, our premises, our platforms, websites and applications;
- j. Enforce court decisions and exercise and / or defend our rights;
- k. Other legitimate business purposes;
- l. Other purposes that are permitted or required under applicable law.

5. Who gets my data?

Within our organization, those employees have access to your data, which they need to fulfil our contractual and legal obligations. Even service providers and vicarious agents employed by us may receive data for this purpose if they maintain the corresponding secret. With regards to the transfer of data to recipients outside of our company, it should first of all be noted that we as a company undertake to maintain secrecy about all customer-related facts and evaluations from which we become aware. We may only disclose information about you if statutory provisions so dictate, if you have approved or if we are obliged to provide information by law.

6. Are data transmitted to a third country or an international organization?

Your personal data may be transferred to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area ("EEA") and then stored and retrieved there. This includes countries whose laws do not protect personal data to the same extent as within the EEA. In particular, we may transfer your personal information to our subsidiaries outside the EEA.

7. How long will my data be stored?

We process and store your personal data as long as it is necessary for the fulfilment of our contractual and legal obligations. It should be noted that our business relationship is a continuing obligation, which can also be created over a longer period. If the data is no longer required for the fulfilment of contractual or legal obligations, these are deleted on a regular basis.

8. What are my privacy rights?

Each affected person has

- the right to information (Art. 15 GDPR),
- the right to data correction (Art. 16 GDPR),
- the right to delete data (Art. 17 GDPR),

- the right to restriction of processing (Art. 18 GDPR),
- the right to contradict (Art. 21 GDPR) and
- the right to data portability (Art. 20 GDPR).

In addition, there is a right of appeal to a competent data protection supervisory authority (article 77 GDPR). You may revoke your consent to the processing of personal data at any time. This also applies to the revocation of declarations of consent that were issued to us before the validity of the General Data Protection Regulation before 25.05.2018. Please note that the revocation only works for the future. Processing that occurred before the revocation is not affected.

9. Is there a duty for me to provide data?

In the course of our activities, you must provide the personal data necessary for the commencement and performance of our services and the fulfillment of the associated contractual obligations or which we are legally obliged to collect. Without this data, we will generally have to refuse to execute the order or be unable to complete an existing order and may have to terminate it.

10. To what extent is there an automated decision-making process?

In principle, we do not use automated automatic decision-making pursuant to Art. 22 GDPR to justify and implement the services.

11. Is there are data profiling?

No.
